FIRST INSERTION

Notice of Regular Meeting and Public Hearing to Consider Adoption of Assessment Roll and Imposition of Special Assessments Pursuant to Chapters 170, 190 and 197, Florida Statutes, by the Brightwater Community Development District The Board of Supervisors ("Board") of the Brightwater Community Development District ("District") will hold a regular meeting and public hearing on February 26, 2020, at 9:00 a.m., at the Hyatt Place Fort Myers at the Forum, 2600 Champion Ring Road, Fort Myers, Florida 33905.

The purpose of the public hearing will be to consider the adoption of an assessment roll and to provide for the levy, collection and enforcement of proposed special assessments that will secure the District's proposed Capital Improvement Revenue Bonds. At this hearing, the Board will hear testimony from any interested property owners as to the propriety and advisability of the special assessments on certain benefitting lands within the District, more fully described in the Master Special Assessment Methodology Report dated January 10, 2020. The proposed bonds will fund a portion of the public improvements described in the Master Report of the District Engineer Report dated October 15, 2019. The Board will sit as an equalizing Board to consider comments on these assessments. The public hearing is being conducted pursuant to Chapters 170, 190 and 197, Florida Statutes.

The annual principal assessment levied against each parcel will be based on repayment of up to thirty (30) years of the total debt allocated to each parcel. The District expects to collect sufficient revenues to retire no more than $44,560,000 principal plus interest in debt to be assessed by the District, exclusive of fees and costs of collection or enforcement, discounts for early payment. The proposed schedule of assessments is as follows: Preliminary Assessment Roll

Owner	Acreage	% of Acreage	Total District Debt	Total MADS
North Brook Holdings, LLC	340.29	100%	$44,560,000	3,722,713

The special assessments for all benefited land within the District are anticipated to be initially directly collected in accordance with Chapter 190, Florida Statutes. Alternatively, the District may elect to use the Lee County Tax Collector to collect the special assessments.

Failure to pay the assessments may subject the property to foreclosure and/or cause a tax certificate to be issued against the property, either of which may result in a loss of title. All affected property owners have the right to appear at the public hearing and the right to file written objections with the District within twenty (20) days of publication of this notice.

At the conclusion of the public hearing, the Board will hold a regular public meeting to consider matters related to the construction of public improvements, to consider matters related to a bond issue and special assessments to finance public improvements, to consider the services and facilities to be provided by the District and the financing plan for same, and to consider any other business that may lawfully be considered by the District.

The Board meeting and public hearing are open to the public and will be conducted in accordance with the provisions of Florida Law for community development districts. The Board meeting and/or the public hearing may be continued in progress to a date and time certain announced at the meeting and/or hearing.

If anyone chooses to appeal any decision made by the Board with respect to any matter considered at the meeting or public hearing, such person will need a record of the proceedings and should accordingly ensure that a verbatim record of the proceedings is made, which includes the testimony and evidence upon which such appeal is to be based.

NOW. THEREFORE. BE IT RESOLVED BY THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE BRIGHTWATER COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT DISTRICT THAT:

1. The foregoing recitals are hereby incorporated as the findings of fact of the Board.

2. Assessments shall be levied to defray a portion of the cost of the Project.

3. The nature of the Project generally consists of master improvements consisting of roads, water management and control, water supply, sewer and wastewater management, electrical power, landscaping, hardscaping and irrigation, all as described more particularly in the plans and specifications on file at the District Office which are by specific reference incorporated herein and made part hereof.

4. The general locations of the Project are as shown on the plans and specifications referred to above.

5. The estimated cost of the Project as stated in the Engineer's Report is approximately $29,197,700 (hereinafter referred to as the "Estimated Cost").

6. As stated in the Assessment Report, the Assessments will defray approximately $44,560,000 of the expenses, which includes the Estimated Cost, plus financing related costs, capitalized interest, a debt service reserve and contingency, all which shall be financed by the District's proposed bonds, in one or more series.

7. The manner in which the Assessments shall be made is based upon an allocation of the benefits among the parcels or real property benefited by the Project as set forth in the Assessment Report. As provided in further detail in the Assessment Report, the Assessments will be levied initially on a per acre basis since the Project increases the value of all the lands within the District. On and after the date benefited lands within the District are specifically platted, the Assessments as to platted lots will be levied in accordance with the Assessment Report. Until such time that all benefited lands within the District are specifically platted, the manner by which the Assessments will be imposed on unplatted lands shall be on a per acre basis in accordance with the Assessment Report.

8. In the event the actual cost of the Project exceeds the Estimated Cost, such excess shall also be paid by the District from its general revenues if available or additional assessments or contributions from other entities.

9. The Assessments shall be levied in accordance with the Assessment Report referenced above on all lots and lands, within the District, which are adjoining and contiguous or bounding and abutting upon the Project or specially benefited thereby and further designated by the assessment plat hereinafter provided for.

10. There is on file at the District Office an assessment plat showing the expansion area to be assessed, with the plans and specifications describing the Project and the Estimated Cost, all of which shall be open to inspection by the public.

11. The Chairman of the Board has caused the District Manager to prepare a preliminary assessment roll which shows the lots and lands assessed, the amount of benefit to and the assessment against each lot or parcel of land and the number of annual installments into which the assessment is divided. The preliminary assessment roll is part of the Assessment Report which is on file at the District Office.

12. In accordance with the Assessment Report and commencing with the year in which the District is obligated to make payment of a portion of the Estimated Cost of the Project acquired by the District, the Assessments shall be paid in not more than thirty annual installments payable at the same time and in the same manner as are ad-valorem taxes and as prescribed by Chapter 197, Florida Statutes; provided, however, that in the event the non ad valorem assessment method of collecting the Assessments is not available to the District in any year, or the District determines not to utilize the provision of Chapter 197, F.S.

PUBLIC NOTICES In American Tradition

Public notice is an important tool in assuring an informed citizenry. Notices are mandated by legislatures to make sure there is a public window into the activities of governments, officers of the court and others holding a public trust. There are four key elements to a valid public notice. It should be executed by an entity outside the one mandated to provide notice, so proper checks and balances are in place.

A public notice informs citizens of government or government-related activities that affect citizens' everyday lives. A public notice typically has four elements:

• Independent: A public notice is published in a forum independent of the government, typically in a local newspaper.

• Archivable: A public notice is archived in a secure and publicly available format.

• Accessible: A public notice is capable of being accessed by all segments of society.

• Verifiable: The public and the source f the notice are able to verify that the notice was published, usually by an affidavit provided by the publisher.

conflict of interest.

Types of Public Notices

There are three standard types: Citizen participation notices inform the public about proposed government action and allow the public time to react to such proposals.

One such example is a public hearing notice.

• Business and commerce notices

The history of public notices

Public notices existed long before the emergence of newspapers. The concept itself began when early civilizations posted notices in public squares. This crude method was eventually refined with the publication of the first English language newspaper in 1665 — a court newspaper called the Oxford Gazette. After being renamed The London Gazette, this official newspaper carried notices from the King's Court, London relate to government contracts and purchases. Notices of contract bids allow citizens to ensure that the government is operating in accordance with principles of equal opportunity and is acting responsibly in spending taxpayer money.

• Court notices are required of many non-governmental entities that officials and outlying regions.

The American system is modeled after the British system. State governments published public notices before America's founding, and the newly-created federal government followed suit. In 1789, the Acts of the First Congress required the Secretary of State to publish all bills, orders, resolutions and congressional votes in at least three publicly available newspapers.

An important premise both in federal and local governments of the United States, as well as in many republics around the world, is that information about government activities must be accessible for the electorate to make well-informed decisions.

Public notice supports due process

Public notices are integral to democratic governance and stem from the right to "due process of law" guaranteed by the federal and state constitutions. Due process of law protects Americans' rights from arbitrary or wrongful violations. This concept has two parts: substantive due process and procedural due process.

Substantive due process refers to the types of rights that are protected. Procedural due process refers to the means of protecting those rights.

Substantive due process ensures that certain basic rights are not violated, while procedural due process may require suitable notice and a hearing before a government or court-appointed body can act in a way that may affect those basic rights.

THE RISKS OF NOTICES ONLY ON THE INTERNET

Although it has been part of American society for a guarter-century as a network for scholars and government agencies, the Internet has been widely used by citizens for about 15 years.

Because of its structure with computer clients and servers, information packets and open-network codes, the Internet remains vulnerable and sometimes unstable. Power surges, corrupted software and downed servers can disrupt access. Government agencies cannot ensure that information located on a server is secure.

Even a highly technological site like that of the Pentagon's has been affected. In June 2007, the Pentagon was forced to take about 1,500 computers off-line because of a cyberattack. Then-Defense Department Secretary Robert Gates stated that the Pentagon sees hundreds of attacks every day.

Public notices guard our constitutional right to due process of law by informing citizens of government action and providing proof of publication via notarized affidavits of publication. Unlike the time-tested and trusted local newspapers that citizens have come to rely on for public notices, the Internet is an unstable medium for information. While it is valuable tool in disseminating information, it has not yet reached a level of sophistication and technological stability that would justify its supplanting newspapers as the primary venue for public notices.

It is still uncertain how a "Net" affidavit could show proof of a public notice publication when constant technological change makes any attempt at archiving and accessing such a document online for any significant time dubious.

No less problematic for the Internet is its reach. Those who live in rural areas where broadband does not exist and others who simply cannot afford the Internet cannot access web public notices. In situations where foreclosures are on the rise due, in part, to predatory mortgage lending, more, not less, access to public notices is needed to better inform citizens about their rights and their choices.

It is difficult to justify, then, moving public notices from newspapers only to publicnotice Web sites administered either by already over-burdened state governments or by third-party vendors who lack the experience and long-term viability newspapers have proven in publishing notices.

So far in the Internet age, newspapers remain the most trusted and primary method for providing citizens access to public notices.

Other general newspapers and onto a Web site administered interest newspapers, such as county seat by the Department of Justice. Yet, the courts have little research to show that the Justice Department's Web site will produce viable, accessible, archivable notices. While Internet web pages pose serious archiving challenges, newspapers, on the other hand, become historical documents. They are oriented and published with a date on every page. They cannot be deceptively altered after printing as a web page could. Upholding the public's right to know is essential to our country's way of life. Our government governs with the consent of the people, and this consent must be informed. Local newspapers keep the public informed about the inner workings of their respective state and local governments, thereby allowing citizens to participate more fully in the democratic process. Without this participation, the potential for misguided policies increases.

Newspaper tradition

Newspapers allow the government to notify the public of government actions. The government has a fundamental responsibility to ensure adequate notification to the public of its actions. Therefore, the government has a duty to make sure the methods used in satisfying this responsibility are the most effective.

Newspapers provide neutrality from government and credible distance from political pressures or partisan disagreements. Local and community newspapers serve as third-party reporters to the public, publishing information that can be beneficial or sometimes detrimental to the government's public image. They provide an environment for notices that the

On the other hand, public notices in independent newspapers increase government transparency by opening up the decisionmaking process to the public's eyes. Without this oversight, local governments could enact controversial policies without input from the public.

Newspapers serve as effective monitors of governments and ensure that they publish information as required by law. Public notices are typically required by a statute or a regulation. The independent press can provide a valuable civic role by helping to monitor that the notices were published when required. If governments were responsible for publishing their own notices, no neutral and independent entity would have the incentive and the means to track public-notice publication.

Newspapers: The best medium for public notices

Newspapers, for the most of the republic's history, have been the accepted medium for public notices. This is exactly where the public, even infrequent readers, expects to find them. In addition, specialized publications, such as legal newspapers, are well known for effectiveness of newspapers is that newspapers provide valid evidence of readership. Legislatures are rightly concerned about web-only notices, given the digital divide between rich and poor, rural and urban residents. The Internet is either too costly or simply geographically unavailable to large segments of society.

Notices become historical records

The newspaper as paper of record is an important factor in the public policy of notices. Government Web sites cannot provide a secure archival history the way newspapers can. Electronic records lack permanence and can easily be intentionally or accidentally erased. Even the Library of Congress has recognized this shortcoming and has embarked upon a major project to attempt to archive digital records that are in danger of being "forever lost" due to Internet impermanence.

Procedural due process, as granted by the U.S. Constitution and interpreted by courts, generally requires an individual to receive notice and a hearing before he or she is deprived of certain rights or property. For example, before a person's home is sold by a county sheriff at a foreclosure sale, he or she must receive notice of the foreclosure sale and an opportunity to save the house from foreclosure. If the owner does not receive the notice, he may challenge the sale in court. The court may then void the sale or prevent the sale from happening to protect due process.

Newspapers are generally paid to run public notices, which recognizes that their publication creates a cost in paper, ink and delivery.

WHEN PUBLIC NOTICES REACH THE PUBLIC, EVERYONE BENEFITS.

Some officials want to move notices from newspapers to government-run websites, where they may not be easily found.
